Rundle Holdings Ltd achieves ISO 9001:2015

Rundle Holdings Ltd is pleased to announce that it has recently gained certification to the internationally recognised and prestigious ISO 9001:2015 standard.

This sets us apart as one of the only European based international procurement and export companies to have achieved the standard and demonstrates our commitment to ensuring that quality is at the heart of everything we do.

ISO 9001:2015 is the most comprehensive quality management standard covering all main processes within a company, ensuring that these processes are not only conducted under controlled conditions but are also subject to continuous improvement. The certificate is only awarded to companies that can demonstrate their ability to consistently provide products and services that meet customer requirements, placing customer satisfaction as a key component of those requirements.

We are delighted and proud to be an early adopter of the standard within our industry and certification to ISO 9001:2015 reaffirms our commitment to service and delivering quality to our customers.
